About Floyd Scholars

The Dr. Deborah L. Floyd Scholars Fund is designed to meet the ever-changing needs of today's leaders in higher education. In collaboration with a community of alumni, friends, and higher education leaders, the program offers financial assistance to Ph.D. students to build a network by supporting research conference attendance and mentoring activities.

Each year, a faculty and alumni committee awards travel scholarships to Floyd Scholars in recognition of their academic standing, potential to benefit from mentoring and pledge to give back as a mentor, research aspirations, and resource needs.

All gifts to the Floyd Scholars Fund, no matter the amount, are gratefully appreciated.

A donor who contributes a minimum of $1,000 by December 31, 2025 will be recognized as a Founder. Donors may designate their gifts for current use (immediate impact) or as an endowment (invested for long term growth).
